INTERVENTION MEXICO'S NEED

Stout Assertion of Senator Smith Of Arizona.

RAPS INDEMNITY SUGGESTION

Senator Fall of Same State Urges Repeal of Resolution Prohibiting Exportation of Arms Into the Southern Republic, Claiming It Acts as an Injustice to the Factions Opposing the Huerta Administration.

Washington, June 28.—A change in the attitude of the United States toward the warring factions in Mexico was urged in the senate, with the result that the foreign relations committee of that body is to take up the question immediately.

Senator Fall of New Mexico told the senate that under the interpretation put upon the neutrality resolution adopted by the last congress the present and the previous amendment had prohibited shipments of arms to the insurgents, at the same time permitting the de facto government to receive such shipments. He called the attention of the senate to the fact that since these disturbances started on the other side of the Rio Grande more than 80 Americans had been killed and property losses had also run well up into the millions.

Senator Fall praised the Wilson administration for refusing to recognize what he termed the "assassins of the president of Mexico" as the established government of the republic, but he declared the practice of the administration in allowing arms to go to one faction and not to the other had resulted in retaliatory steps toward American citizens that no other nation on earth would permit. Senator Fall offered a resolution repealing the neutrality act.

Senator Bacon opposed the resolution and defended the course of both the Taft and Wilson administrations in their conduct of the neutrality provisions in the Mexican relations.

Senator Smith of Arizona declared that what the Mexicans needed was American interference. He asked if the chairman thought it fair to attempt to collect indemnities from Mexico when it had to be recognized that any indemnity must come out of the pockets of other American citizens who paid more than 40 per cent of the taxes of the Mexican republic.

"Let us come to an agreement with Mexico for her to transfer to the custody of the United States that portion of her territory which lies north of a line drawn due west from the southernmost point of Arizona and including all of Lower California," said Senator Smith.

"Do you mean, take it?" demanded Senator Bacon.

"I did not say, take it," retorted Senator Smith.

LAIRD OF SKIBO INDORSES REFORM

CARNEGIE'S WORDS

Best Bankers and Business Men Are For Currency Reform.

Zermatt, Switzerland, June 28.—Andrew Carnegie, who has been here for a couple of days, is keenly interested in the fate of the American banking reform bill as presented to congress by President Wilson.

"Cable for me," said Mr. Carnegie, "that this is the most important and most necessary legislation on which America has had to decide for years. The present American currency system is a disgrace to the country. It is not true, as has been suggested, that bankers and leading business men are opposed to the measure. That is nonsense. The best bankers and business men are for the reform. My position is this: If it is a question whether private bankers or the president, acting for the American people, shall come to the rescue during a panic, I am for the president taking action."

E. W. LAUTERBACH

Charged With Conspiracy In Alleged Railroad Plot.

By R. Wilhelm.

Judge Robert S. Lovett, chairman of the board of directors of the Union Pacific railroad, laid bare the details of what he characterized as a conspiracy to force the Union Pacific to pay a large sum of money under the guise of counsel fees to head off threatening unfavorable legislation by congress. Judge Lovett, testifying before the senate lobby committee under oath, named Edward W. Lauterbach, the New York lawyer, as involved in this conspiracy.

WILL JAIL JACK

Montreal, June 28.—At the request of Secretary of State Bryan, the Canadian government ordered the arrest of Jack Johnson, negro pugilist, pending his deportation as an undesirable immigrant, if he attempts to remain in the Dominion.

THRONGS CROWD CREATH'S COURT

METHODIST PREACHER IS FOUND GUILTY

Charges Preferred by the Mother of Young Choir Singer.

Elizabeth N. J. June 28.—Rev. W. H. S. MacRorie, the suspended Methodist preacher, was convicted here of charges preferred by the mother of Miss Edith Nelson, the young choir singer in the clergyman's church in Westfield. The jury was out three and a half hours. It strongly recommended that mercy be shown to MacRorie.

MacRorie will be arraigned for sentence on July 11. Under the verdict he can be sentenced to a maximum term of six months in the county jail and to pay a fine of $50. He can receive a less term or sentence can be suspended, according to the discretion of the judge.

M'NAB REPLACED

Washington, June 28.—Thomas E. Hayden and Judge M. Dooling have been selected by President Wilson for United States district attorney and United States circuit judge, respectively, for the northern district of California. Hayden will succeed District Attorney McNab.

Law and Order League Attorneys and Detectives Both Insist that More Sensational Charges are to Follow, but Refuse to State What the Charges are or Who is Involved.

Citizens Anxiously Wait for More Bombs to Be Dropped.

Never before was so much interest centered in the court of Mayor Wade Creath of Bloomingburg as there was Friday afternoon when the first cases brought from evidence secured by the Burns operatives who have been dragging this city (some of whom are said to be still here) were up before Mayor Creath for hearing.

A large crowd of Bloomingburg citizens, who learned that something unusual was about to take place, gathered about the old town hall to await developments. Two or three auto loads bearing a number of prominent citizens, went over from this city and remained until the proceedings were concluded.

Marshal Gordon, of Bloomingburg, assisted by the Constable of Paint township, Chas. Friend, came to this city in an automobile and transferred the prisoners to Bloomingburg for trial.

Margaret Ott Arrested.

In addition to removing Albert Brown, Rabbit Smith, Henry Brown and A. B. Cash, who had been confined in the county jail, the officers arrested Margaret Ott, who resides on the corner of Paint and Hinde street. She was charged with selling intoxicants to J. O. Carson, a Burns detective, on June 6th and June 22nd, two affidavits being filed against her.

She attracted a great deal of attention while in court at Bloomingburg, dressed in the height of fashion and with a number of large diamonds flashing about her. She was cool and collected, but time and again her eyes rested upon the Burns man who had caused her arrest, and a look of hatred o'erspread her countenance.

The Attorneys.

When court was called in the little stuffy room of the old town hall, it was packed to the suffocation point.

Attorney D. C. Badger, former Congressman and former mayor of Columbus, well known throughout the state, and Attorney D. B. Ulrey, former city solicitor of Columbus and former prosecuting attorney of Franklin county, whose reputation as an attorney of power is by no means confined to the state of Ohio, were the representatives of the Law and Order League. They have been retained to push the prosecutions.

J. O. Carson, Burns Detective.

Probably no one present attracted the attention that was bestowed upon J. O. Carson, manager of the Burns Detective Bureau for this district.

Carson is one of the men who assisted in the arrest of the McNamara gang of dynamiters; he lead the force of detectives who cleaned up Gary, Indiana; assisted in the Dayton clean-up and a score of other really big deals, including the sensational legislative probe at Columbus, when the famous dictograph was used with results.

Court Proceedings.

Margaret Ott was the first of the prisoners called upon to plead, and after the affidavits were read to her she refused to plead, asking for an attorney, and time to prepare for the defense. Her request was granted, and her bond was fixed at $300 in each case, and after using the telephone for some time the bond was secured in this city and she was released. Her trial was set for next Tuesday. A great deal of interest centers in the outcome of the charges.

Albert Brown was next arraigned, and entered a plea of not guilty. He said he was ready for trial any time, and his hearing will take place next Wednesday morning. Bond was fixed at $500, but he wanted it reduced to $300 so it would "sound better."

Henry Brown, against whom there are to charges, but only one of which was read, the other having been temporarily mislaid, came next, and entered a plea of not guilty. His bond was fixed at $500 and his trial was set for next Wednesday afternoon.

Albert "Rabbit" Smith was next arraigned, entered a plea of not guilty and his bond was fixed at $500. He insisted on having the bond reduced to $300, but Mayor Creath was firm and refused his request. "Oh, well, it's all right anyway, as I do not intend to give any bond" was his remark when his request was refused.

Judge Badger hinted that there might be other charges against Smith before he was through with the affair. Wednesday, July 2nd at 9 a. m. was set for his trial.

A. B. Cash, represented by Walter Maynard, came next and his trial was set for Saturday, July 5th at 9 a. m.

Alfred B. Brown, who was arrested in Columbus by the detectives and held in the city prison under a charge of bootlegging, was not present, and Mayor Creath set Thursday afternoon at one o'clock for his arraignment on the charges.

According to those prosecuting the cases there is liable to be a white slavery charge develop in connection with one of the cases. The detectives are still working on the case, and state that results may be expected soon.

Henry Brown, Rabbit Smith and A. B. Cash were still in the county jail Saturday morning, unable to give bond. Albert Brown secured bond and was released.

"We have simply commenced work at the bottom and intend to go to the top," said Attorney Cleary in speaking of the cases. "The next affidavits we will file will catch some of the 'higher ups' who have never, so far as known, faced a court on charges such as well be preferred against them."

He carried a great role of manuscripts containing reports of the various detectives. These were guarded very closely.

Detective Carson said "the vast amount of crime unearthed in Washington during our stay seems almost unbelievable. We have as high as a dozen separate charges against a single person."

Both detectives and attorneys, however, maintain absolute silence on matters which have not yet culminated in the launching of prosecutions. They claim thought to have many more sensational cases "up their sleeves."

The public is clamoring for more detail knowledge of all who have been caught in the web, but the prosecutors content themselves with the injunction to wait and see—the worst has not yet been made known.

People generally are on the qui vive, more, if possible, than ever before, since the news first broke loose.

SHEETS AGAIN BLOCKS ACTION

Another Special Session of Council Necessary for Passage of Important Ordinance as Result of One Councilman Voting Against Suspension of Rules—Rothrock Again Absent—Next Meeting Monday Night.

Council meeting was very short Friday night and Sheets alone blocked the passage of the ordinance calling for an election for submitting the question of "Shall a Commission be Chosen to Frame a Charter?"

Rothrock was absent again. He was also absent at the Thursday night session, it will be recalled.

When Council was called to order Friday night McLean made a motion to have the ordinance placed upon its second reading, and all voted yes with the exception of Sheets, who voted no.

After the ordinance was read the second time, Chapman moved to have the rules suspended and the ordinance placed upon its final reading. All voted yes with the exception of Sheets, and his negative vote ended further action on the ordinance during the session.

Durant then made a motion that adjournment be taken until Monday night at 7:30, when final action on the ordinance will be taken, and the constitution of the state of Ohio, according to the city's legal adviser, makes it mandatory for Council to take affirmative action on the ordinance, and the Councilmen are sworn to uphold the constitution.

The action of the councilman blocking the passage of the ordinance has caused quite a little comment.

REORGANIZATION IS DECLARED OPERATIVE

A further postponement of the sale of the D. T. & I. railroad is said to have been secured by the committee on reorganization of the Northern and Southern parts of the system. The road was to sell at Trenton at public auction today.

A dispatch from New York concerning the latest move says:

"The reorganization committee of the D. T. & I. railway company announces that the plan and agreement, dated June 3rd, for the reorganization of the Northern and Southern divisions of the D. T. & I. has been declared operative. A further opportunity is given to holders of bonds and certificates to participate in the reorganization, the committee having extended the time for doing so to July 10."

BROKEN ARM BY KICK OF HORSE

Mr. Spenser Calvert had his right arm broken and wrist dislocated Thursday by the kick of a horse.

Mr. Calvert, wife and daughter, Miss Ethel, had motored to their farm on the Worthington road. Mr. Calvert leaving his family on the creek to fish and going on to a distant pasture to look after a horse that had cut its leg on a barb wire. After doctoring the horse Mr. Calvert started to lead it back to pasture when the horse gave a vicious kick, striking the right arm. Suffering greatly, but with indomitable grit, Mr. Calvert drove his car back to the creek and Miss Ethel, who fortunately drives the car, brought him home to have the broken bones set.

TEAM RUNS OFF CAUSING EXCITEMENT

A team of large horses attached to a road wagon, owned by Lynn Hoppes, became frightened while near the B. & O. station Friday evening about five o'clock, and after dashing up Paint street to Main they turned down Main and ran at top speed, losing part of the wagon near the Cherry hotel and continuing their dash down Main street, nearly colliding with a number of rigs and causing pedestrians to fly in haste.

Attempts to stop the runaway proved futile until they reached a point near the Ortman garage when a man sprang into the street and seized them. No serious damage was done.

MOORE RELEASED FATHER TO RESCUE

The timely appearance of the father of Leslie Moore is said to have saved him from a trip to the Xenia workhouse as a result of his mixing it up with Patrolman Bell a few nights ago when he was intoxicated and thought the cop could not arrest him.

Moore was given a fine and workhouse sentence and was thrown back in jail until his father came to the rescue and paid the fine, securing the release of his son.

RETURN OF DAHL-MILLIKAN PARTY

The Dahl-Millikan party arrived from the week's outing to Mackinac and the "Soo" Friday evening at 7 o'clock, the huge crowd of over 400 in the highest spirits and enthusiastic over the trip to the last degree.

Throughout the trip everything had been just right, the weather perfect, the itinerary ideal and the management unequalled.

One passenger, who has enjoyed several past outings said, "It was the banner trip, a perfectly beautiful river trip of 800 miles, and in addition to the beauty of the scenery so much of interest that every day brought new and varied pleasure."

To many the climax in interest came in the visit to the government locks at the "Soo", from which was gained an excellent idea of the Panama canal. Two new government locks are now being constructed. They have already been 5 years in construction and it will be 5 more before they are completed. The large body of visitors was shown every courtesy and given full explanation of the models and machinery.

The old fort, home of John Jacob Astor and many interesting and picturesque palaces of Mackinac were no less enjoyed. At Detroit auto rides, the theaters and places of amusement provided generous entertainment.

A marked feature of this trip was the chartering of the City of Detroit II for the exclusive use of the party. It was a floating hotel for their benefit from the time it pulled out of Detroit last Monday and was anchored during the return stay at Detroit, the party returning to it after spending the evening in Detroit, and finding its accommodations preferable to a hotel.

During the entire time spent on the boat splendid meals were served, "fried chicken dinners" regular occurrences, flowers elaborately used in decoration, and as one woman said, "we had a party all the time".

There was dancing both at the "Soo" where the orchestra was superb, and on the boat, and all kinds of parties for the special benefit of the young people.

Throughout all were splendidly cared for and the absolute freedom from responsibility added no little to the pleasure of the trip.

Col. B. H. Millikan, of the firm, gave to the entire trip the personal management which has been a big factor in the success of the Dahl-Millikan outings and was ably assisted by salesmen, Lewis, Holloway, Schadel, Clemens, Perrill and property men Cullen and W. Lewis.

C. H. & D. PASSENGER TRAIN WRECKED TODAY

East Bound Morning Train Jumps Track Near Bogus Road and Runs Quarter of Mile, Cutting Ties, Before Passengers Are Hurlled From Their Seats by Sudden Stop—Delayed Several Hours.

C. H. & D. passenger train No. 202, which leaves here at 9:38 bound for Wellston, was wrecked about a half mile east of the Bogus road crossing two miles east of this city Saturday morning, but fortunately no one was injured, although the passengers, a number of whom were from this city, were given a severe shaking up.

The train had just crossed a bridge about 40 feet or more in length, when the trucks of the tender left the rails and commenced cutting the ties.

Dashing along at more than 45 miles an hour the train ran for a quarter of a mile before it came to a sudden stop with the passenger coaches just ready to topple over.

After working until noon the trucks were replaced upon the track and the train continued upon its journey, but not before some of the passengers became weary of waiting and walked back to this city.

It was a close call from a really serious wreck, and passengers on the train were considerably frightened when they learned of their narrow escape.

HIS DIPLOMA.
 He can row as if from Venice,
 He's a crackerjack at tennis,
 He's a wizard on the bunkers
 And a wonder with a cue.
 In a manner free and easy,
 He can navigate the breezy
 In his monoplane expensive
 That he calls the Parley-Voo.
 He can take a hand at poker,
 And at bridge he is no-joker,
 He's a marvel on the banjo
 And the tinkling mandolin;
 And he keeps a polo pony,
 For he thinks the game is tony.
 And the football team he captains
 Is the one that's sure to win.

He belongs to half a dozen
 Clubs exclusive, and his cousin
 Is an English Duke whose photo
 He is careful to display.
 In the place of books of knowledge
 In his cozy room at college
 There's a cello where bottles
 Of the "fizz" are stowed away.
 Of himself he is the proudest

INTERESTING BITS OF NEWS

(By John E. M. Kerr.)
 Every man woman and child in the United States would owe $10.74 if responsibility for the public debt were distributed on a per capita basis. It is not so distributed, of course, neither can it be, and yet the credit of the republic is in keeping of all its people and not of any particular class.

Two prizes are offered for operas, one of $10,000 by the National Federation of Musical clubs and another of $5,000 by the Chicago Opera Company. Both want American operas and the Federation further stipulates that "the libretto must be worthy sponsorship." The winning operas will be presented in 1915.

A dinner in honor of Mr. Andrew Carnegie was given lately by the Library Association of London, England. Responding to a toast, Mr. Carnegie said he believed in libraries because of his father's example.

His father in Dumfermline was a small master weaver and he and several of his companions decided to amass their books. They got a place for them in the weaving shop and got a neighbor to read to them. This was the germ of the public libraries. The first library given by Mr. Carnegie was to his native town, to perpetuate his father's work. Since he presented the library to the Scottish town nearly 2500 has been established among the English speaking race and he hoped to see them number 5000.

The American Zionists, an organization for the promotion of Jewish colonization in Palestine has raised over $100,000 the past year to acquire land in the Holy Land. 21 Jewish young ladies, who are trained nurses have volunteered for service in Palestine and they are expected to greatly extend the good done by the three nurses sent out with the aid of Nathan Straus towards improving sanitary conditions in that country.

At noon on the 24th, President Wilson handed a boy clad in the uniform of a Scout a message of encouragement for clean athletics. The boy leaving the White House, breaking into a trot and a 775 mile relay to Chicago is on. Exactly 775 boys will handle the President's message, the 775th boy delivering the package to the officials of the great pre-Olympic Athletic Festival now going forward. The boys run day and night. The route leads from Washington through Frederick to Pittsburg, Cleveland, Toledo, South Bend and Chicago. Each Scout will run his mile and receive an emblem as a souvenir of the trip.

It is said that the undrained swamp lands of Louisiana, aggregating more than 7,000,000 acres, form an area of fertility excelled by no other in the world except possibly by the Amazon flood plain. It is estimated that these lands, apart from the cities which would exist, could support a farming population of 3,500,000.

The latest gown sensation from Paris, the "expose toilet", has reached New York. The first shipment of the daring new fashion was placed on sale yesterday at a ladies' department store and attracted the eager attention of throngs of shoppers. According to the latest fashion, femininity will no longer wear stiff, choking collars, heavy skirts, tight waists and torturing corsets. Instead there will be a combination of embroidered silk trunks, silk stockings and filmy draped robes—so draped as to show the lines and curves of the figure and much of the limit. One of the gowns was worn on 5th avenue today and drew the astonished stare of throngs until traffic policemen were forced to drive them on.

Oil Tank Steamer Destroyed In New York Harbor.

FIVE MEN DEAD, OTHERS HURT

Many Members of the Crew Jump Overboard and Are Picked Up by Rescuers Who Had Put Out in Launches—Vessel, the Property of the Standard Oil Company, Damaged to the Extent of $150,000.

New York, June 28.—A fire in the fuel tanks of the Standard Oil company's oil tank steamer Mohawk, anchored in the lower bay, between Stapleton and Tompkinsville, Staten Island, dealt death to a number of workers in her hold and caused injuries to six more men.

These are the five missing, who are thought to be dead: Fourth engineer of the Mohawk, two members of her crew, Edward Donahue, 35, of Brooklyn; John Donovan, steamfitter's helper, of Brooklyn. The last two were employed by the Atlantic Basin Iron Works company. The monetary loss is estimated at $150,000.

The vessel is one of the big new type owned by the Standard Oil company, and has only been in commission for three months. The vessel has been carrying crude oil from Tus-pan, Mexico, to the Standard Oil plant at Bayonne, N. J. The vessel is an oil burner.

The engineers got up steam so that the vessel would be in readiness to proceed out of the harbor today. The first explosion occurred shortly after the fires had been started. A column of smoke shot straight up into the air from the aft of the ship. Then followed a tall pillar of flame extending upwards 50 feet or more. The flames were still shooting up when there was a second explosion, worse than the first. Many of the men jumped overboard. Other members of the crew leaped over the rail. The flames then died down for a moment and there came a third explosion.
The flames began to come out of the hatchways, and the fire settled down to a steady blaze.

Those on shore had put out launches before the explosions had finished.
Arthur and William Denyse, two brothers, of Tompkinsville, jumped into a launch and picked up seven more swimmers, one of whom was badly injured. Other launches put out from the Staten Island shore and picked up other swimmers. Other boats took from the burning vessel those of the crew who had stayed on the ship, together with several of the injured. Fireboats and other craft soon surrounded the burning vessel and fought the flames.

ENGLISH AVIATOR HAS AMBITION TO ATTEMPT VOYAGE ACROSS THE ATLANTIC

English Aviator, Who Arrives In New York, Talks.

New York, June 28.—Frank Clifford, an English aviator, arrived here on the Mauretania to attempt the aerial voyage across the Atlantic. A Queens monoplane is being built here for him and he will make test flights in it from Atlantic City, to which place he goes within the next few days.

Mr. Clifford counts on spanning the Atlantic, landing on the Irish coast, in 30 hours. To think of a longer fly, he says, is out of the question. "The trip, if it can be made at all," said he,
"must be made from this side, and then under proper weather conditions. I will choose a day when the wind is right and will take the shortest course, making the fly about 3,000 miles. I can average 100 miles an hour and will have to come down twice for petrol or gasoline. I will pick up my fuel in midocean, and have arranged to have two ships waiting for me. These I will locate by means of wireless. I will not have to carry a complete wireless outfit, but will make my machine a receiver in itself. My petrol I will carry in frozen blocks."

Proved the Decoy Which Led to the Undoing of Washington's Mayor, According to Stories of Detectives and Columbus Police. Full Story of the Main Sensation so Far Sprung by Burn's Men.

In accordance with evidence secured by the Burns detectives and submitted to the Law and Order League, charges asking for the dismissal of Mayor Harve W. Smith of this city were acted upon by a half score or more of members of the organization at a meeting held Friday night, and all, with one or two exceptions, signed the charges which are directed to Governor Cox and contain sensational allegations of immorality and misconduct in not enforcing the laws of the state and the city ordinances in prohibiting the sale of intoxicating liquors.

Attorney D. B. Ulrey, representing the Law and Order league in the prosecution of the cases turned up by the Burns operatives, was present at the meeting of the organization

Brown's Drug Store

Smith came to the seat occupied by her and rode with her on in to Columbus. The woman in her story insists that from that time on all arrangements were made, by Mayor Smith and she simply followed, knowing that Burn's sleuths were close on their trail.

After checking the woman's grip at the parcel check room the pair proceeded to the Kaiserhof restaurant and had lunch after which they repaired to the house at 209 Scioto street where the arrest of the mayor and the woman was made by Burn's men and Columbus police.

According to Mayor Smith's story as given to one of his friends here, the woman told him she had some disclosures she wanted to make about the sale of intoxicants at a certain place in this city and claimed that she could not talk on the train nor even in the restaurant where they took lunch and insisted on going to the house where the arrests were made.

The detectives who claim to have shadowed the pair say that the mayor left the woman standing on the street while he went on ahead to the house and returning passed her and the woman went on to the house. Not however, until she had written on the side of the building near which she was standing the figures "209" to inform the detectives where she could be found.

These grim figures the detectives claim can still be seen and are evidence substantiating the woman's story, they claim. Shortly after Mayor Smith and the woman detective entered the house, a young army of detectives and police swooped down on the house and the pair handcuffed together were taken to police headquarters.

Taken before Chief Carter handcuffed to the woman, Mr. Ulrey says Smith in response to a remark by the chief that he seemed to take it coolly said—"What's the use chief, they laid a trap for me and got me."

No charge was lodged against Smith and he was allowed to go by the police.

Mayor Smith returned home on the early morning B. & O. train Friday. The woman detective has disappeared as completely as if the earth had opened up and swallowed her.

Nothing which has occurred in Washington in years has created the sensation that the disclosures of Mayor Smith's arrest and arraignment in the Police court at Columbus has caused.

That a trap was laid by the Burn's sleuths and that Mayor Smith fell an easy victim to the wiles of the little woman detective are admitted.

Mayor Smith is being urged by some of his friends to resign and by others to stand his ground and fight to the end.

The leaders of the Law and Order League insist that charges now in their hands directed to Governor Cox asking for the impeachment of Smith and his removal from office will be filed unless he forestalls such action by resignation.

So far Mayor Smith has not announced to the public what conclusion he has reached as to his future course.

ELECTRICAL STORMS

Heavy electric storms which commenced in the county shortly before twelve o'clock today caused the atmosphere to become much cooler, affording pleasant although temporary relief from the close, hot weather under which local citizens sweltered all morning.

YOUTH CAUGHT ENTERING WINDOW

Early this afternoon, Mrs. H. D. Pursell heard a noise at the rear of the house and going to the kitchen found a little boy trying to take out the screen in the window. When the boy saw her he immediately said he was hunting ice cream buckets and thought there might be one there. He was unable to give any other excuse for his action and ran off as fast as possible.

There was every reason to believe that the boy's object was petty thievery, and similar attempts may have been made at other homes. It will behoove housekeepers to give special attention to locking up their kitchens and young offenders will be given special attention by the police force.

AT THE HODSON HOSPITAL

Withal the hot weather there have been a number of operations at the Hodson hospital this week.

One of the most serious cases was Mrs. Douglas Binns, of New Holland, who is thought to be doing as well as possible. Miss Nettie Anders, of Leesburg, underwent a tonsillectomy operation and Robert James, son of Mr. Frank James, a similar one.

Mr. Alfie Simmons returned to his home on the Jeffersonville pike Friday, greatly improved.

Reds Score Four Runs, More Than Enough to Cop the Game.

HUGHIE JENNINGS SAYS WITH ANOTHER PITCHER LIKE JEAN DUBUC TIGERS WOULD BE PENNANT CONTENDERS

Detroit, Mich., June 28.—Hughie Jennings is of the opinion that if he had another pitcher or two of the class of Jean Dubuc the Tigers would be in the first division. Hughie says that lack of good twirlers keeps his team way down in the race. Last year Dubuc pitched brilliant ball for the Tigers and was ranked among the great twirlers of the American league. Dubuc is not a youngster. Three years ago he was tried out by Cincinnati and sent back to the minors. While with Montreal in 1911 he made a great showing, and in the fall he was drafted by Detroit. Dubuc says the slow ball has been the secret of his success. It took him three years to gain control of the delivery. "I cannot tell how many days I work on the delivery," said Jean recently. "I know there were countless times at first when I felt like throwing up the sponge and forgetting that there was such a thing as a slow ball delivery. The slow ball is the hardest delivery of any to master. It's easy enough to throw curves or the spit ball, but in acquiring the proper delivery for a slow ball a pitcher has to have a world of patience."

Morgan Owes Success to McBride. Infielder Ray Morgan of the Washington Senators says he owes all of his success as a ball player to the patient teaching of Shortstop George McBride.

SPORT LETTER

Cincinnati, June 28, 1913.

When all is said and done, it is the team that can exhibit the most extensive collection of batting eyes that usually carries off the big plums in a baseball way. And it is this fact that has led the followers of the Reds to hope for an immediate mending in local conditions so far as the standing of the Tinkerites is concerned, for there has been a sudden brightening of the orbs of the local athletes, after a season of semi-stigmatism, that promises much in the way of increased tallying from now on. During the eastern series the Reds' twirlers held their opponents to fairly low scores; but unfortunately the hitting of the locals was so punk that their own scores were lower; consequently the showing against the easterners was disappointing. Now, however, there seems to have been a clearing away of the eye-bedimming cobwebs, with the expected result that victories now will flourish abundantly where but recently defeats grew numerous.

It's going to be a pretty fight between the western teams to decide which of them, and how many, will finish in the first division. There is no reason to believe that the National league pennant will come west this year, as both Philadelphia and New York are going too well to give much hope to Chicago—the highest of the western teams at present—for the flag. The Pittsburghs are not so far ahead of the Reds at present that they cannot be overtaken by a little spurt, while the Cubs also are within comparatively easy striking distance, when one considers that the race still has three months to run. During the next two weeks the Reds will have several meetings with both these teams, the Cubs being the guests on the local lot next Sunday, June 29, and the Pirates coming again on Sunday, July 6, which will be the last Sabbath game on the local grounds until the latter part of July.

The threatened fading away of the Phillies, just because they happened to lose a pair of games in succession, has not taken place, and at the present writing they still are showing some dust to the New Yorks. There really is no reason why the Giants should be picked as favorites over the Quakers, as Boston's men dip out stronger than the New Yorks. In every department but base running. There is no denying that the New Yorks have a good chance to win the pennant, but the chances of the Phillies are better, and it will be a disappointment if the Quakers do not come in under the wire first this year.

Although the death of Luther McCarthy in a fight with Arthur Pelkey in Canada last month has had no effect upon the pugilistic sport, there is much satisfaction over the verdict of the grand jury that investigated the affair in deciding that Pelkey was not guilty of manslaughter, and consequently has been set free. Despite his unfortunate experience, Pelkey declares that he will not give up the ring, but will soon prepare to meet some of the other heavyweights for the title that was taken from McCarthy by death and from Jack Johnson by Uncle Sam and public sentiment.

They're already beginning to make active preparations over in Berlin for the Olympic games of 1916. The stadium at which the contests will be held will be dedicated next month, and German athletes are giving more time to developing themselves in the various sports than ever before. It is feared that the American team will be handicapped slightly through the absence of the late Mike Murphy, to whose training before and during the games the great success achieved by American athletes largely was due. However, by the time the games come around some one will be found capable of getting good results, and there is no limit to the ability and number of our athletes of class.

Harvard's defeat of Yale in the recent inter-collegiate boat races was more of a surprise than the Cornell victory in the Poughkeepsie regatta. Cornell has formed a positive habit of winning these Poughkeepsie events while Harvard has been compelled to bow down to Yale on a number of occasions on the new London course. Incidentally, as a sort of retribution of the general impression that most rich young men are idlers in athletics it is given out that the fathers of the youths who rowed in the Harvard crews against Yale are worth nearly $50,000,000 in the aggregate. Quite an amount of backing for boatmen.

TRIP POSTPONED

President Unable to Pay Flying Visit to His Summer Home.

Washington, June 28.—A few hours before the time set for his departure for Cornish, N. H., President Wilson decided that the Union Pacific-Southern Pacific dissolution and other business of pressing import demanded that he postpone the trip. The president had planned to make a flying visit to Cornish to see Mrs. Wilson and his daughters safely installed in their summer home. As it was, he bade them goodbye at the Union station.

The president conferred with Senator Kern, the Democratic leader of the senate, on the prospect of the senate reaching final action on the tariff early next week, in time for adjournment July 4. The senator was by no means optimistic.

FREE TO YOU—MY SISTER

I am a woman. I know women's sufferings. I have found the cure. I will mail, free of any charge, my home treatment with full instructions to any sufferer from women's ailments. I want to tell all women about this cure—yes, your mother, or your sister. I want to tell you how to cure yourselves at home without the help of a doctor. Men cannot understand women's sufferings. What we women know from experience, we know better than any doctor. I know that my home treatment is safe and sure cure for Leucorrhoea or White Discharges, Scanty or Painful Periods, Uterine or Ovarian Tumors, or Growths; also pains in head, back and bowels, bearing down feelings, nervousness, creeping feeling up the spine, melancholy, desire to cry, hot flashes, weakness, kidney and bladder troubles where caused by weaknesses peculiar to our sex.

I want to send you a complete ten day's treatment entirely free to prove to you that you can cure yourself at home, easily, quickly and surely. Remember, that if I will send you nothing to give the treatment a complete trial; and if you wish to continue, it will cost you only about 15 cents a week or less than two cents a day. It will not interfere with your work or occupation. Just send me your name and address, tell me how you suffer if you wish, and I will send you the treatment for your case, entirely free in plain wrapper, by return mail. I will also send you free of cost, my book—"WOMAN'S OWN MEDICAL ADVISER" with explanatory illustrations showing why women suffer, and how they can really cure themselves at home. Every woman should have it, and learn to think for herself. Then when the doctor says—"You must have an operation," you can decide for yourself. Thousands of women have cured themselves with my home remedy. It cures all old or young. To Mothers of Daughters, I will explain a simple home treatment which speedily and effectually cures Leucorrhoea, Green Discharges and Painful or Irregular Menstruation in young Ladies, Pimples and health always results from its use.

Wherever you live, I can refer you to ladies, of your own locality who know and will gladly tell any sufferer that this Home Treatment really cures all women's diseases, and makes women well, strong, plump and robust. Just send me your address, and the free ten day's treatment is yours, also the book. Write today, as you may not see this offer again. Address

CONFIDENTIAL MAN AND MONEY MISSING

Warrant Issued For a Construction Company's Representative.

Cincinnati, O., June 28.—G. R. Reed, auditor of the Westlake Construction company of St. Louis, swore to a police warrant against John C. Griffith, confidential man of the company in Cincinnati. Reed charged that $4,000 of the company's money had been taken. Investigation began when it was discovered Griffith had left the city ostensibly for Toronto, Canada. The company has a $1,600,000 contract for work at the new city hospital and it has been paid for 80 per cent of the work already. Most of this money was handled by Griffith.

MARRIAGE CONDUCTIVE TO LONGEVITY.

Chicago, June 28.—Married persons live longer than those who are single, according to statistics gathered by Dr. St. Clair Drake of the city health department. He has figured out that the death rate of Chicago bachelors is 29 1/2 per cent higher than that of married men. The mortality rate of unmarried women is 40 per cent higher than that of married women, he said.

COURT DECIDES SOME WEIGHTY POINTS ANENT NEW TAX LAW

NOT EXEMPT FROM THE REFERENDUM

Kilpatrick Tax Law Subject to Ninety Days' Delay.

DECISION OF SUPREME COURT

Prosecuting Attorneys to Continue to Sit This Year as Members of Budget Commissions—Validity of the Act Not Passed Upon by the High Court—Attorney General Hogan's Opinion Sustained.

Columbus, O., June 28.—Solicitation of signatures to petitions for submission to referendum vote of the Kilpatrick law, materially modifying the Smith 1 per cent tax law, will continue. The supreme court held this law not to be in effect, but to be subject to the 90 days' delay under the referendum clause of the constitution.

The court refused the demand of City Solicitor Cornell Schreiber of Toledo that Prosecuting Attorney Charles M. Milroy of Lucas county be required to show why he occupied the seat on the budget commission of that county which the Kilpatrick law provides shall be occupied by the city solicitor.

Pursuant to the decision, prosecuting attorneys will continue to sit this year as members of budget commissions.

The court did not pass on the validity of the law, deciding only the one question presented, whether it was subject to a referendum.

In the syllabus the court held it was not exempt from referendum because it was not a law providing for tax levies. The decision upheld the opinion of Attorney General Hogan.

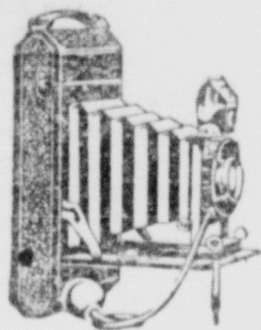

The Kilpatrick law abrogated the Smith law limitation of taxes to the amount levied in 1910 plus a schedule of percentages.

The Franklin county circuit court was reversed and Judge Kinkead of the common pleas court sustained by the supreme court, in holding that property owners in petitioning for the building of a road can not specify what road material shall be used.
